

Let's get the ball rolling...

It's just been announced that the Starry Night Pillar and Ball Candles have returned to the PL Product line, and I wanted you to be the first to find out!

I know many of you and your guests expressed an interest for this item over the year, and that's why I'm offering a special deal that will last until Nov.30th! I will tell you what that is when you call to place your order.

Be sure to call everyone on your list, and I will have a special gift for the person with the most orders!!
